

Privacy Statement

What data does IFDC collect? IFDC collects and processes your contact information for all of our services. IFDC uses your data for Statistical Analysis IFDC performs statistical research on general trends. For this purpose, we use aggregated information only, decoupled from your name, e-mail address and phone number. For these research activities, we have created a separate database in which we combine and subject to research the following data of our candidates, in so far as you have provided them earlier in the process: name, function, e-mail address, organization, city/ region/ country.

The research results are reported at an aggregated level and accessible to those persons within IFDC who are authorized to take cognizance of them or may be provided to third parties for scientific research. We use the reports for the evaluation and improvement of our services. We also share the results of our analyses with third parties that formally cooperate with IFDC. In that context, we communicate only general conclusions that cannot be traced back to individuals.

IFDC uses your data for Targeted Marketing Results of statistical analyses will not be used for marketing activities targeted especially at you, unless with your prior consent. You can unsubscribe from these messages at any time, in which case IFDC will immediately stop sending them. However, we will in such case continue to use your data at an aggregated level for statistical analyses.
